THERE REALLY IS NOTHING like the weather as a conversational item, especially when it is unusually cold or unusually hot or unusually dry or unusually wet.

Or take the current situation, as a case in point, when it has been both unusually cold and wet.

Although no snow actually fell in the Campbell area, the foothills surrounding the basin made up for it and plenty of people took advantage of the close proximity of the white stuff to show it to their kids.

And, of course, Christmas music was made more meaningful.

"I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas," for example, became less of a dream and more of a reality with the snow-capped hills only a short distance away.

There was snow in Campbell, of course, but it was brought in.

As we shivered away, we saw a number of cars decked out in snow, hours after the snow had been put there.

And it made us shiver even more.

THAT THIS WILL BE AN "unusually wet" year is also pretty well established by now with the rainfall to date already almost two inches more than the total registered for the entire season last year.

Our top-coat this year is getting a real workout.

We find that we are wearing it even when the sun is shining because of the way the weather has been acting up.

It is difficult to tell lately how long the sun will stay out before giving way to the rain-clouds.

Incongruously, one day recently, for example, we found it necessary to wear our sunglasses and our top-coat at the same time.

And the windshield wiper was going also.

Anyway we seem to have proved our point.

About using weather as a conversational item.

Even in a column.

IMPRESSIVE IS ABOUT the only way to describe the two huge lighted signs on the top of "The Towers" that proclaim the traditional Christmas message of "PEACE ON EARTH."

Even in daylight with the snow-capped hills as a backdrop, the signs make an impact.

Whether the signs are "legal" or not under present or proposed city regulations seem immaterial in face of the message which has so long been associated with the Christmas season.

Obviously the signs will come down after Christmas.

But "Peace on Earth" is a thought that could well be continued throughout the year.

Even without a sign on top of an 18-story building to remind us.

THERE IS A SEAMY SIDE to the season which has been noted in a report by Attorney General Evelle J. Younger.

"The period from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day," the attorney general submits, "has been labeled Danger Days."

Then he lists some advice to ward off the dangers that lurk during this joyous season.

In a sort of a sad but realistic commentary on the side we sometimes overlook, much to our chagrin, later, the attorney general suggests that shoppers should place their Christmas purchases in the automobile trunk and the car should be locked and windows closed.

He suggests also that one should hold his purchases tightly to avoid their being taken. The gals should always hold onto their purses

COUNCIL APPOINTS COMMITTEE

City establishes goals program

Machinery for the operation of the first city goals program was set in motion on Monday night when the City Council appointed 19 citizens to the steering committee and established the objectives and the organization structure. The committee will meet with the Council on January 3.

Vice-Mayor Dean Chamberlin and Councilman Norm Paul represent the Council on the goals committee which is planned to explore three phases representing the (1) physical and economic development of the city, (2) intergovernmental relations and, (3) city's responsibility for people-orientated programs.

The basis for the establishment of the goals program, it was emphasized, is to encourage citizen involvement in the planning and development phases of the city.

It was also noted that the present urban environment requires local government to respond to changes which directly affect the lives of the citizens.

The intent, as Councilman Paul pointed out, is to have all interests of the city represented and that the steering committee was directed to recruit interested citizens from all segments of the city.

Named to the steering committee on Monday night were: Don Hebard, chairman, Planning Commission; Edith Morley, chairman, Parks and Recreation Commission; Becky Campos, chairman, Youth Advisory Commission; Jeanette Watson, chairman, Civic Improvement Commission; Ed Fabbri, president-elect, Chamber of Commerce; Irma Reese, Progressive Seniors; Jim D'Avis, superintendent, Campbell Union School District.

NEW YOUTH COMMISSIONERS—Appointed to Youth Advisory Commission on Monday night by the City Council were: Joanne Jubran, 14, of 2134 S. Abbey Lane, a freshman at Campbell High; Nathan Rodney, 13, 415 Kenneth Ave., Campbell Elementary; and Ben Gullo, 17, 1671 W. Campbell Ave., a senior at Prospect High.

The three were appointed from a list of 12 applicants. The selection was made after interviews last Saturday. The three new members will join the four present members of the Commission, Becky Campos, chairman, a senior at Mitty High; Doug Hebard, a freshman at Prospect High; Cindy Casteel, freshman, Campbell High and Julie Thiebaut, a freshman at Santa Clara University.

At Monday's Council meeting, first reading was given the ordinance establishing a Youth Commission of seven members. The Commission was formed in 1969 by resolution with nine members.

"Belltones" to present music program at CofC luncheon

Villa Felice will be the setting for the fourth annual Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting this Thursday, December 14, and the well-known "Belltones," musical group of Pacific Telephone, will be the featured attraction.

The 30-voice choir has established an enviable reputation throughout the area in the presenting of musical programs. The choir is directed by Ted Randissi. Jim Bower, manager of the Campbell office for Pacific Telephone and newly-elected CofC director, was instrumental in obtaining the choir for the annual Christmas affair.

CofC members are also invited to bring their secretaries, wives, or girl friends to the luncheon.

Len Edholm, CofC manager, reports that the choir is on an extremely tight schedule and the music portion of the program will start promptly at 12:15 p.m. and that lunch will be served immediately after the program, approximately at 12:45 p.m.

Members are asked to call the CofC office (378-6252) for reservations.

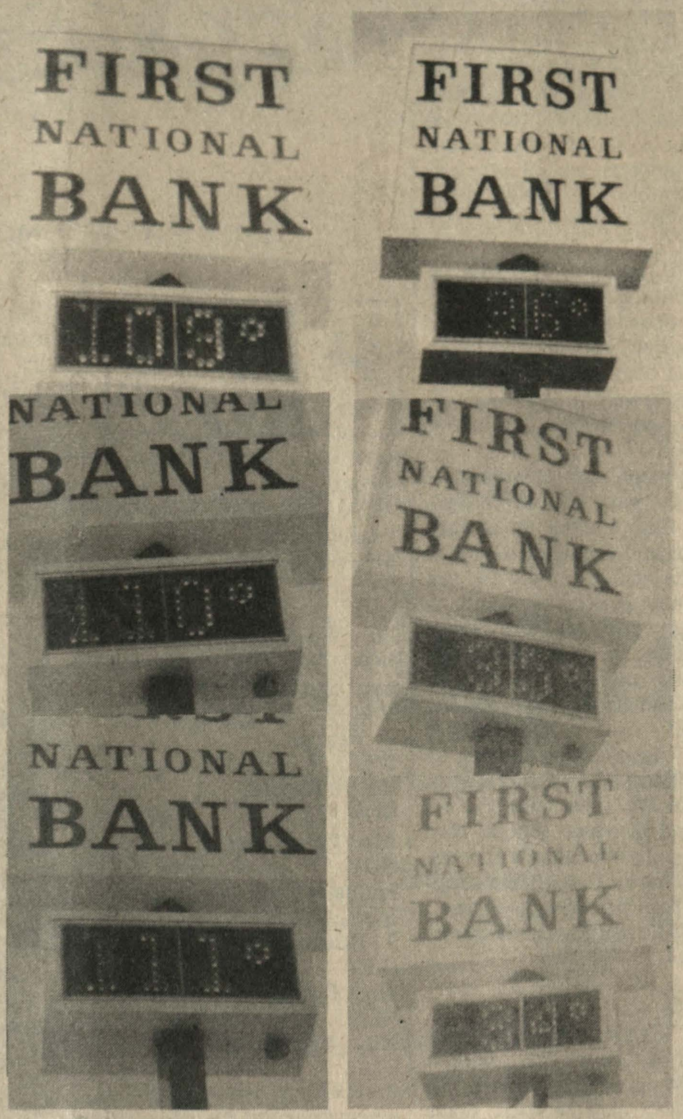
On Thursday also, at 7:30 a.m., the merchant-retailer division of the Chamber of Commerce has scheduled another breakfast meeting at Sambo's, 1461 W. Campbell Ave.

Sgt. Don Dore of the Campbell police department is scheduled to report on the new burglar alarm system that is in the process of being installed for those merchants who contract for the service.

As a result of the fall membership drive, 31 new members, representing $1515 in dues, have been obtained, Edholm reports. In the year-long contest for new members, Edholm also said, Rusty Hammer is leading with 15, followed by Betty Piper with 14 and Al LaPlante with 10.

The leader for the year will be named "Ambassador of the Year" at the annual installation dinner-dance at Zorba's on January 19. The membership contest will end on December 31 at 5 p.m.

The eight new directors will be installed at the January 19 affair when the new president, Ed Fabbri, present first vice-president, is scheduled to take over the gavel as president for next year.



SAME PLACE BUT DIFFERENT READING—The record cold wave that encompassed the area during the past week resulted in a lot of shivering as the mercury dropped to new lows. The photos on the right above were taken Saturday afternoon and it cooled off even more later. But the photographer was too cold to stick around.

For contrast, we dug out the photos on the left that were taken last July at the same place when a record high was registered on the same thermometer.

So 1972 has made its mark, high and low. Weatherwise, that is. Feel any warmer?

Planning Commission to look again at drug store plans

Plans for the Longs Drug Store to be located in the Hamilton Plaza Shopping Center (Bascom and Hamilton) will again be up before the Planning Commission next Monday night.

The Commission meets in the council chambers in the city hall at 7:30 p.m.

Action was deferred at the last meeting to allow a more extensive review of the plans. The commissioners also expressed interest in improving the landscaping of the entire center.

Another continued item, the application of Marshall Kent & Associates for an apartment complex at 400 W. Rincon, is also scheduled to be before the Planning Commission Monday. The new plans call for 51 units, a reduction from the original plans. The commissioners had indicated previously that the density was higher than was desired.

Plans for a warehouse/office submitted by L.W. Bitney, at 503 Salmar Ave. have also been submitted.

Other items on the agenda next Monday, include plans for an eight-story hotel and commercial building that originally came before the Planning Commission a year ago.

Also on the agenda are the plans for Verne L. Buckle, for a plumbing shop at 240 Dillon, also continued from previous meetings.

Emma Knowles is seeking a use permit for a dancing school at 89 Cherry Lane and Charles R. Urbani is asking for a variance from 8-feet to 6-ft. 6-inches to allow a second story at 1214 Robway Ave.

Letter asks law suit questions

Some answers to questions raised in a letter to the school board from Gordon Abbott on the pending Royer vs. school district litigation may be forthcoming at the board meeting this Thursday, December 14, it was indicated this week.

The board meets in the administration building at 7 p.m.

The trustees are also scheduled to award contracts for building projects at Hazelwood, Campbell and Forest Hill schools, provided that the bids that have been submitted are satisfactory.

The trustees are also expected to review the noise barrier project that is planned for Moorpark School in cooperation with the state. New state legislation allows state participation if a freeway causes excess noise.

COUNCIL GIVES "BLESSING"

City projects top $1 million

City councilmen wore hats of the "big spenders" on Monday night when in a series of four fiscal actions they either gave their blessing or approved more than $1 million for new city projects.

"Council blessing" was given the first phase development for Rincon Park estimated to exceed $200,000; the contract was awarded for completing the engineering wing at the city hall for $61,810; approval was given for the city purchase of two parcels of property for $35,900 and the Council indicated that approval would be given at the next meeting for drafting the final plans and specifications for the library that will top $865,000 when completed.

RINCON PARK

The "blessing" for the park project which will be financed by bond funds followed a presentation of a cost estimate by Bill Wren, public works director, based on the report of Arutunian & Kinney Associates, landscape architects.

Wren's presentation was complemented by a report from Hank Cary, of the Parks Commission and head of the Rincon Park sub-committee.

Wren explained that the first phase would include picnic pads, benches, play area, turfing and landscaping of one section of the park from Rincon Avenue to the end of the Pony League field. The estimate for this part was $134,221.

Another $25,000 would be used for the refurbishing of the Pony League clubhouse and restrooms and improvement of the field. The parking lots would be developed by public works department and he also pointed out that the grading contract for $24,000 has already been let.

By its "blessing" of the proposal, the Council authorized Wren to prepare the necessary specifications for submittal to bid.

ENGINEERING WING

The Council accepted the low bid of Trimble Construction Co., of Campbell of $54,664 for the completion of the engineering wing at the city hall. With architect fees of $4,646 and a contingency fund of $2,500, the total figure approved by the Council came to $61,810. A special city tax of 12-cents will finance the wing.

PARCELS

The Council by resolution authorized the mayor to execute acquisition agreements for a house and lot owned by Mrs. Catherine Ferro, at 64 Central, for $30,000 and for the E. M. Nolen lot on Grant Avenue for $5900.

The Ferro property is needed for the extension of the north loop from Central to Harrison, and the substandard Nolen parcel is adjacent to a city-owned lot on the same street. Gas tax funds will be used to buy the Ferro property.

LIBRARY

Although the City Council had been notified by George Farrier, county librarian, that state approval had been received for the preliminary plans and specifications, upon the recommendation of City Manager Bob Stephens, authorization for Bill Hedley, architect, to proceed with the final plans and specifications was deferred until next meeting.

Stephens explained that there were some minor details to be worked out in the architect's agreement. Farrier also reported that an extension of time until 1974 had been granted in the allocation of $200,000 in federal money that will be used.

[illegible] was [illegible]icated that, based o[illegible] the present time table, construction of the library could be under way by early summer. The county has approved the allocation of $265,000 and the city will pick up the balance from the money remaining in the bond fund. All the necessary property (between Central and Harrison) has been already acquired.

Shivering weather

Broken water pipes caused by the freezing weather kept the emergency crew of Campbell Water Co. hopping last Saturday while a number of accidents were reported by the Campbell Police Department caused by icy roadways.

The Campbell Fire Department also answered calls for broken building sprinkler systems caused by the bursting of pipes because of the cold spell.

The police report that a number of accidents occurred on the San Tomas Expressway over Winchester when cars slipped off the roadway because of the ice that had formed.

ARREST SUSPECT

A 25-year old gardener, who resides only two blocks from Hazelwood School, has been arrested by Campbell police as a suspect in the molesting of a 9-year old girl. The girl was abducted from the school grounds.

Arrested by the police was David Sebastian Soriano, of 475 Waldo Ave. The police reported also that the arrest was made possible largely through the cooperation of citizens who furnished various "leads."

REACHING FOR IT—The stretching hands reaching for the $97,672 federal check that was received this week by the City of Campbell as part of the revenue sharing program symbolically illustrates the many suggestions that have been submitted as to how the money should be spent.

The $97,672 check represents one-half of the first year allocation for the city. The program is projected for a five-year period and the annual allocation possibly may be increased during that time. A reproduction of the fiscal windfall is also shown.

Editorial

Now to spend it

The City of Campbell has received a check from the federal government totalling $97,762, representing one-half of the first year allocation in the revenue-sharing program that has been established.

Since the first announcement of the revenue-sharing program, city councilmen and department heads have discussed the ways the money should be spent.

It is an enviable and also quite an unusual position in which the city finds itself. Obviously, it is not every day that a "windfall" is received of the magnitude of this federal gift.

Although the check for $97,762 is large, another one of the same size is expected early next year and the program is supposedly geared for a five year period.

A number of recommendations have been made as to how the money could be used. But no commitments have yet been made. The Council has indicated that the commitments were to be made after the check was received.

Now the money has arrived.

We are confident that the councilmen will weigh the needs of the city and spend the money to the best advantage to the city as a whole.

We do suggest, however, that they be cautious in their approach.

Because of Campbell's relative healthy fiscal condition, we see no great need for haste in the cutting of this federal melon.

Important election

Despite the fact that the big election is barely behind us and it may be difficult to work up steam so soon, we submit that there is an election early next year that is of extreme importance to all of us.

We refer, of course, to the election for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board of trustees which will be held in April.

Although it seems to be far off, the fact remains that the filing deadline is in February, which is only two months away.

Terms of three trustees expire next year. And it does not take any mathematical wizard to conclude that on a five-member board, three members constitute a majority.

We have long been aware of the turmoil in the school district and quite obviously it cannot be ignored.

At the very best, the present situation in the district can be compared to an "armed truce" or a "cease firing" period.

What is needed, of course, is a definite mandate from the voters as to what overall policy should be pursued by the district.

We realize, of course, that is a general statement because "policy" is a somewhat intangible term.

Perhaps "philosophy" would be more descriptive of the situation.

But no matter whether it is "policy" or "philosophy" that we are talking about, we sincerely believe that a clear mandate from the people in the district is necessary.

And the only way that mandate can be attained is at the polls next April when three trustees will be elected.

We think it is imperative that the citizens in the district take a long, hard look at the situation and then become involved in the selection of the trustees.

Historically there is generally a poor turnout at the polls in school district elections.

And any so-called "mandate" generally represents only the thinking of a small percentage of the people.

But the opportunity will soon present itself for the electorate to direct the destiny of the school district through the selection of three trustees.

We think it is extremely important that the citizens in the district become involved; take an active part in the campaign and then vote on election day.

That there will be an active campaign in the trustee election seems to be pretty well established.

We assume that there could be two "slates" presented to the voters. There is nothing wrong with that.

What is wrong, however, will be if the citizens show so little interest at election time that the selection of the trustees will be made by a very small percentage of the citizens.

Therefore, we urge all the citizens of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District to become involved in what could be one of the most important milestones in the district's history.

We believe it is vitally important to all of us that the selection of three trustees, a majority of the board, be done by a vote that is representative of all segments of the district.

There is too much at stake for all of us, both parents and non-parents of school-age youngsters, to allow the selection to go by default, so to speak, because so many of you left the voting to others.

and be sure to get their charge plate back from the sales clerk.

Merchants, he adds, should be on the lookout for bad check artists and should always require good identification when cashing checks.

And in another danger area, the attorney general also suggests that pedestrians cross only at street corners, obey all signals, look both ways before crossing and be sure the way is clear. Never, he urges, cross or enter the roadway between parked cars and always carry or wear something white when walking at night.

Motorists are urged to have someone drive them home if they plan to drink at holiday parties and automobile drivers should also keep car windows clean, maintain head and tail lights and be patient in heavy traffic.

Younger also advises parents to pass onto their children that hitchhiking is dangerous and should be avoided.

The advice offered by the attorney general is sound although, unfortunately, most of us prefer to overlook the obvious pitfalls as we celebrate the Christmas season.

But somehow "danger days" hasn't the same ring to it as "Merry Christmas."

But we agree with the esteemed attorney general that there are some hazards around.

So have a happy time shopping for Christmas.

BUT hang onto your purse.

A GOOD EXAMPLE OF what is meant by "danger days", as referred to by the attorney general, took place recently at Benson's Campbell Cleaners.

A young guy was caught at the cleaners by Lowell Bensen, literally, with his hand in the till.

The cash register had been left unattended for a brief period so this guy decided to help himself.

When he was surprised in the act by Lowell, the man took off in a hurry with the loot he had scooped up, mostly all currency.

Lowell gave chase.

But the brazen, daylight burglar managed to get away.

He did drop some of the currency he was carrying.

Only some of the small bills of course.

THERE IS ANOTHER way to try to get money in Reno other than by gambling, we learned first hand recently, while there for a weekend.

However, we cannot vouch whether the method is any more successful than the tables.

While we were waiting on the sidewalk for our Dorothy, so we could replenish our temporarily (we hoped) depleted financial plight, a young woman came up to us and asked, if we could spare her any change that we might have.

The girl was neatly dressed and she was very soft-spoken and courteous in her request.

Because at the particular moment our liquid financial condition was probably in the same shape as hers, if not worse, we unhesitatingly explained that we couldn't help her out, even if we wanted to.

She moved on immediately.

We don't know whether her request was due to a run of bad luck at the tables or if she was on her regular beat.

Being cleaned out in Reno is not unusual, of course.

The many pawn shops in the downtown area will testify to that.

But being asked for dough by a total stranger (other than professional panhandlers) was a new experience for us.

And, frankly, it was quite depressing.

FOR SOME TIME NOW we have been trying to find the right spot in this column to describe a rip-snorting incident involving Bill Means and his trousers that occurred recently on the golf course.

So now is as good as any.

While Bill was stooping over to pick up his ball from the cup after parring a hole, there was this slight tearing sound.

His trousers had given way at the seams. But just barely.

We all surveyed the damage and agreed that the split was small and would not impair his game.

But our collective judgment was premature.

At the very next hole, as Bill prepared to drive off, disaster occurred.

But this time it was no half-way job. It was the whole thing.

To complicate matters, these particular trousers were the half-belt kind with no belt in back at the seat of the problem.

So when the seam gave way, that was the end.

They just dropped. And there was no way to hold 'em up.

And, of course, there were no safety pins in our crowd.

One of the more ingenius members of the foursome, removed the wire that held the towel at the ball-wash stand.

Then the wire was used to close the gap on Bill's trousers. He finished the game without further problems.

We noted that he was still cautious about stooping over, however.

Not that he was worried about any more splits. It was that wire that kept poking him in a vulnerable spot, you see.

Means has a wide variety of sartorial apparel suited for golf.

But now he has something unique for his wardrobe.

Wired trousers.

RE-ENLISTS

Staff Sergeant Richard J. Salmon, son of Mrs. Bernice L. Hubbell of 311 N. Second St., Campbell, has re-enlisted in the U. S. Air Force at Osan AB, Republic of Korea.

Sergeant Salmon is a special weapons technician.

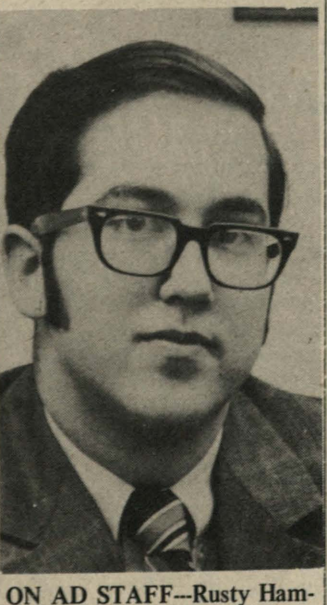
The sergeant is a 1965 graduate of Del Mar High School. His wife is the former Mi K. Kim.

STATION ROBBED

Martin Oil Company, 851 E. Hamilton Ave., was robbed at gunpoint early Saturday by a man described as 30 years of age, with a full beard and mustache wearing a tan leather jacket.

According to attendant, John Murphy, the alleged robbery occurred when he was approached by the suspect who pointed a hand gun at him demanding money.

The suspect left, on foot, with approximately $100 in cash, according to reports.



ON AD STAFF---Rusty Hammer, a Santa Clara University student, has been added to the advertising staff of The Campbell Press on a part-time basis under the direction of Sally Howe, advertising manager. Hammer, who has been active in civic affairs and in the Chamber of Commerce was elected to the City Council last April and is one of the youngest city councilmen in the United States.

Experts report on noises

After hearing reports from two acoustical experts on Monday night relative to the noise factors that could be involved in a proposed dog kennel at 1849 Pollard Road, the City Council deferred action on the zone change, which will allow the kennel, until the next meeting.

The councilmen had received the written reports just prior to the meeting and felt more time was needed to digest their contents.

The zone change and kennel operation had been approved by the Planning Commission, subject to an acoustical report furnished by the applicant, Miss Joyce Kealoha. The Council, however, wanted to act on the acoustical report first before taking action on the zone change.

Fred Chez, a developer of a small commercial center across a drainage ditch from the proposed kennel, has vigorously opposed the proposal.

So two acoustical reports were submitted.

One was by Dr. Vincent Salmon, of Industrial Noise Services, Inc., representing the applicant and the other was by Ed Pack, former planning commissioner, of Edward L. Pack Associates, acoustical consultants, representing Chez.

Both reports involved sound levels based on the decibels that barking dogs might produce and their relation to other noise factors.

In other matters at the Council meeting, approval was given to expend up to $2500 for a joint survey with the county on the traffic problems involving East Campbell Avenue and other streets in that area.

The Council referred back to the Planning Commission, the appeal of the Jack-in-the-Box restaurant, 1450 W. Campbell Ave., from a Planning Commission denial of remodeling plans because new plans had been submitted.

Also referred back to the Planning Commission for recommendation was the question of whether Garland Spears, operator of a trailer sales at 175 Curtner, had violated the landscape conditions of the use permit that had been issued for the operation.

The Council voted to cooperate on the proposed emergency "911" program but would wait for further developments before taking any specific action.

The Council approved an approximate expenditure of $38,000 next year to convert the city's mobile radio equipment to UHF bay station to new channels. It was explained that even if the city had remained with the county communications system, such a change would have been necessary.

The Council also approved a proposed revision in the city hall telephone system to improve service for incoming calls.

ADMIRING CHECK---Mayor Bill Podgorsek tightly holds the check from the federal government of $97,762 representing one-half of this city's first year allocation in the revenue-sharing program. The City Council is now studying various recommendations as to how the money should be spent but as yet no commitment has been made.

Transit unit sets bus fares

A bus fare of 25-cents for most adult riders anywhere within this County is being considered for the buses of the Santa Clara County Transit District. A 10-cent fare also has been proposed for senior citizens and those between five and 18 years of age. Those under five would ride free.

The new fares have been recommended by the County Transportation Commission. If the County Board of Supervisors approves them, those will be the prices on the fare boxes starting January 1.

On New Year's Day the transit district expects to take over the operations of San Jose City Lines, the Peninsula Lines in Palo Alto and the local services of the Peerless Stages Inc.

The transit district was approved by the County's voters at the June election. It is authorized to replace the present bus lines and to start planning for a mass rapid transit system within the County. Negotiations to buy the buslines are under way.

CAMPBELL TRIES TO HELP

As Christmas rapidly approaches, this is the time that people feel a need to do something good for mankind, and show gratitude for what they, in return, have received from others.

The faculty and students of Campbell High are no different, and this year, where more than ever before the citizens of San Jose and Campbell have been generous, cooperative and infinitely patient with our school, we would like to give a little something back to the community by making Christmas a bit brighter for some needy families in the area.

Campbell High will be sponsoring a food drive from now until Wednesday, December 20 when the schools close for the holidays. The kids will be bringing any kind of non-perishable goods (canned foods, cake mixes, candy and other goodies that make Christmas CHRISTMAS) to their first period classes where it will be collected in brightly decorated boxes by the Spirit Commission and Girls Sports organization.

From the school it will be taken to a community distribution center to be equally divided between the needy families in the area.

But by all means, this food drive is not restricted to the high school! If you are of kind heart and benevolent spirit, but have no children of high school age, to be sure, do call us, and we will come and pick up your contribution.

The other half of our Christmas present to the community is an effort by Campbell's ROTC to collect as many usable (or easily repairable) toys as they can in an effort to help Santa to get to some of the needy families to which he's "lost the addresses." This is only one part of the nationwide Toys for Tots program, done annually by the U. S. Marine Corps.

I know that it's a lot harder to part with an old ("Ah, what memories!") toy than it is a can of green beans, but think of it this way: wouldn't it be worth it to get rid of a toy or game you have that you rarely use, knowing it would become a cherished treasure in the hands of some poor child that had no other toys?

I think so.

I'll be giving this year, because I'm grateful for all that I've got, and for what the community has done for me. So will many other Campbell High School students. I hope you will, too.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

On Wednesday, Dec. 13 at 8 p.m. there will be a PTA business meeting in the faculty room.

Hmmm...I don't know what it's all about (they never tell us anything), but it sounds important, so if you're involved with the PTA, I would strongly suggest that you go. ("Ve haf vays ov dealink vith slackers...)

Thursday at 2:30 is Girl's Sports--basketball and hockey against Westmont, here.

On Tuesday, December 19 at 8 p.m. Campbell will give its annual Christmas program. Featuring our award-winning orchestra, the school choir and glee club. It should last about an hour and consists mostly of Christmas music (I guess that makes sense).

On Friday, December 15 a concert by God Unlimited in the CHS Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 for adults, $1 for students.

And last but not least, the day every Campbell student works and sweats for, is Thursday the 21st, where we are mercifully released to "enjoy the holidays" with not more than four term papers, one research project, and 68 calculus problems. Oh well...it could be worse.

AND THAT'S THE WEEK SENIOR POLLS

Yes, that wonderful tradition of singling out certain members of the graduating class and labeling them is still with us at Campbell High, and this year the list is bigger and better than ever. (Yawn). Oh well, the categories and winners for the class of 1973 are:

Most likely to succeed: Tim Moore and Liz Taylor

Most likely to end up on Skid Row: Scott Riely and Ruby Hernandez

Most Scholastic: Dave Buell and Judy Guckinski

Biggest Partier: Paul Mestice and Paula Yeager

Most Liberal: Jim Sturges and Mo Caudillo

Funniest: Mark Staggs and Paula Yeager

Biggest Flirt: Mark Staggs and Sherri Fox

Friendliest: Mike Magnilia and Frances Reda

Most Athletic: George Hahn and Mary Feenan

Foxiest: Bob Pack and Leah Rawlinsen

Best eyes: Jim Oswald and Terry La Due

Best Smile: Bill White and Becky Herrmann

And last, but not least

Best Hair: Chuck Williams and Regina Lin

(P.S.: In my own category for Best School Journalist, the prizes go to Paul Maclerz and Maureen Hillyard because they ALWAYS break me up. Good work, kids.)

WALKING THE PLANK
(very much an editorial)

I had planned to crab about the insect problem at Campbell High.

In fact, I had planned to crab about it two weeks ago.

Fortunately, or unfortunately, because of editor and school administration hassles, it was not included in my last article.

From those series of events I learned a valuable lesson: Before writing an editorial, always know both sides of the story.

So here I was, older and wiser, ready to again approach the disgusting problem we have had with insects since the rains began, this time armed with a much more rounded view of the problem.

But I found (to my delight) that the recent freeze has effectively done what gallons of spray killers could not: the ants, roaches, silverfish, and earwigs are dying by the thousands. So technically, I didn't have much of a problem to write about anymore.

Instead, I'd like to comment on someone who really impressed me as being a good guy in a tough job (not unlike the probation officer who's assigned to keep crime off the streets in New York City).

This guy is Mr. Bob Peck. He's our Principal, you know. At first I was very angry at him, but the longer we talked about my article, the more I could tell he was right, after all.

To think about all the garbage he has to put up with, smiling all the while, boggles the mind. He must know where every student is, every teacher is, everything that is happening in the school all the time, and it is usually he that must account for any mishaps that occurs on campus. He must face hostile students (like me) and irate parents.

He must always be impartial, fair, completely right always. All this, and he's gotta be human, too.

I think that Mr. Peck is doing a good job in the difficult position he's in. I guess the worst part of it though, is nobody really realizes what he has to endure. So I guess that is what this column is all about. I'm telling you what he's doing, and then, I guess, I'm saying "thanks".

SUPPORT THE FOOD-DRIVE!
HAVE A "SPIRITED" CHRISTMAS!

AN APPEAL--Campbell High School students have added a little to their holiday preparations by undertaking two community projects. First, the students are collecting food for needy families, and second, they are asking for toys to support the Marine Corps Toys for Tots drive. Students plan to go out into the community and collect from neighbors and friends. The drive was accented by the school showcase decorated by the spirit commission. Canned goods and toys are being collected in first period classrooms. Col. Art Eppley is coordinating the toy drive.

CAMPBELL PATROLMAN GETS A SURPRISE

In the last issue of the Campus Echo, the Campbell High School student newspaper, one of our Campbell patrolmen was featured in a story about the perils of jaywalking. Under the headline, "Easy Rider Writes Again," was pictured Paul Schommer and his three-wheeled vehicle.

There are no real hard feelings, however, as evidenced by one postscript.

Schommer received a call from a member of the Campbell High faculty recently to come right over to the school. After being assured he could not take care of the problem by phone, the patrolman arrived to find himself presented with a Christmas card and some baked goodies prepared by the high school Spirit Commission.

A token of thanks, they said, because he attends all of Campbell's home games... on his own time.

State college admissions still open

Admission spaces for the spring, 1973 semester are still available at California State University, San Jose, and applications will be accepted through December 15.

Openings are in almost all fields of study, according to Roy Delpier, admissions officer.

Further information may be obtained from the Office of Admissions, California State University, San Jose, phone 277-3266.

TO HELP YOU FEEL ACQUAINTED

- We believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.
- That righteousness is simply "rightness".
- That there is no one that is righteous.
- That through faith in Christ's death for us, God forgives our past sins.
- That through this forgiveness we can have fellowship with God, person to Person.

County can't loan-a-kid for Christmas

As the sound of Christmas carols are heard more frequently, the County Department of Social Services is beginning to brace itself for the annual surge of telephone calls from people wanting to "borrow a child for the holidays."

Mrs. Joan Beyrer, recruiter for the department's Foster Home Licensing Unit, explained that it just isn't legal or possible.

However, the unit offices, at 299-2981, continue to have a need to find long-term foster homes for children of all ages, especially teenagers.

Most of the calls that come to the Foster Home staff this time of year are from people who would like to share their Christmas with a disadvantaged child.

"We appreciate these feelings," said Mrs. Beyrer, "and recognize the caller's good intentions. But the county cannot place or 'lend' children for just a day because of legal involvements and the emotional upset the visit many times causes for the child."

Mrs. Beyrer also said that although the department cannot fill these particular requests, there is a critical need in Santa Clara County for long-term foster homes for children, particularly for children between the ages of 10 and 18.

Homes for teenagers are almost non-existent and there are about 20 teenagers currently awaiting homes. Children need homes the year around, not just for a day. Anyone interested in becoming a foster parent through the foster home program can call 299-2981.

Five schools host musicale

Valley Christian Schools will be presenting "The King Is Coming," a family Christmas musicale, on Friday, December 15 at 7:30 p.m. in Flint Auditorium (De Anza College, Cupertino).

The five schools will present the Christmas story via narration and song. There is no charge for this once-only performance. For further information phone 356-7166.

A good notion that grew and grew and...

What began as an idea to help local craftsmen has blossomed into a thriving business in a store in the Kirkwood Shopping Center.

According to Marian Plansky, who, with her husband Phil, owns and operates "Talk About Carpets" in the center, over 300 individuals are now bringing their handmade goods to be sold in the special "Consignment Corner."

The craftsmen range in age from one 11-year-old boy, who creates driftwood mobiles, to a woman in her 80's who makes rag round rugs that are sold as fast as she can make them.

After spending two very chilly days at a local flea market early this year, Marian decided, "there must be people who want to sell things but don't want to sit out there all day." With their new store opening, Phil gave her a small corner to be set aside for this purpose. It began with three small cases. At present there are eight display racks against the wall, three glass counter cases and display items intermingled with carpets in the front window.

As word of the specialty items spread, they are priced lower than usual, people from surrounding cities and counties have begun visiting the store. Egg shell ornaments and Santa Claus boots are among Christmas items on display in addition to the more usual fare.

Especially popular handmade items have been the apple-head dolls. Prepared by specially baking the apples to create interesting expressions, the dolls are then dressed in individual styles. "No two are ever alike," Mrs. Plansky said.

Antiques are a big favorite, she said, as well as jewelry, (some antiqued) and knitted items.

Many men have become regular shoppers, said Mrs. Plansky, and some are contributors to the "Consignment Corner." One has several pieces of metal sculpture on display.

One man recently published his own volume of poetry and has that for sale at the store. Calling him her "budding author," Marian Plansky says he is now working on his second book.

Her husband recently cautioned, "You're not taking over (the store)." If things continue at the present rate.. that may become a question, rather than a statement.

INTRODUCING THE GOLLY-WOG--Phil Plansky holds the new toy creation in his carpet store in Campbell. His wife, Marian, holding Raggedy Ann, began offering items for sale by local craftsmen in April. At that time she had a tiny corner of the store. During the past seven months that corner has grown... and grown.

CAMDEN SHOW SET FOR TONIGHT

Camden High School P.T.A. is sponsoring their annual Christmas program tonight in the school cafetorium at 8 p.m.

Camden's music director. Glen Benner will conduct the choir, orchestra, glee club and brass choir. The highlight of the evening program will be the rendition of "It Was the Night Before Christmas" (set to music by Fred Waring) by the choir with orchestra accompaniment.

It's time to get started on your high school education

Last year 94 Campbell residents qualified for their high school diplomas and three received scholarships by the Student Community Senate, as part of the Metropolitan Adult Education Program, held at Campbell High School.

Office procedures, business English, reading improvement, woodworking and education for childbirth are among course offerings in the adult school program.

Registration for the spring program begins on Thursday, January 18, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in room 31.

"It is possible, in many cases, to qualify for the high school diploma in one year or less," said Fred Rausch, Campbell counselor.

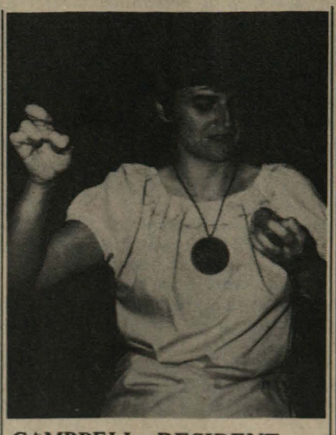
For enrollment in classes for this coming semester students need to make an appointment with a counselor now. Placement testing should be done prior to the counseling appointment and transcript of previous work needs to be sent to the counselor, before enrolling in classes.

Placement tests will be given at Del Mar High School, 1224 Del Mar Ave., San Jose, on Thursday, January 4, Wednesday, January 10 and Wednesday, January 17. All tests are scheduled for 6:15 p.m.

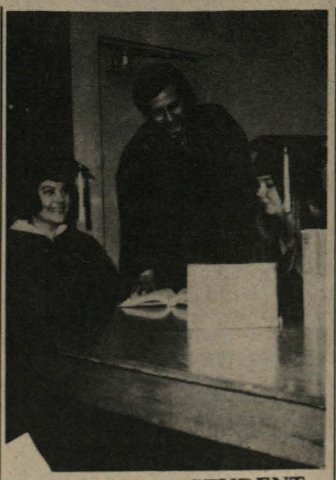
For an appointment with a counselor, prospective students should call 292-2737.

Among those honored at graduation ceremonies at the Santa Clara County fairgrounds included Campbell scholarship winners. Receiving $100 scholarship awards in addition to their diploma were: Pendora Wanzer, Cora Martinez and Iking Flynn.

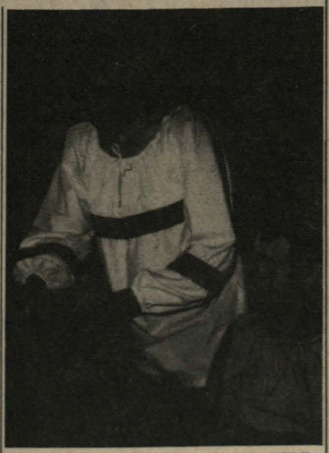
SEWING I---Student Theresa Blytha is shown in her sewing class. One of 94 Campbell residents who completed their high school education through the MAEP program.



CAMPBELL RESIDENT -- Marilyn Hills prevents her thread from knotting by pulling it through beeswax. Registration and placement testing gets under way soon for the spring semester at the adult school program at Campbell High School.



STRAIGHT A STUDENT--- Pendora Wanzer, right, received all A's in her MAEP studies toward her high school diploma. Congratulating her are, from left, graduates Diana Gustafson and James Flores.



MOTHER AND DAUGHTER --Paula Bloomquist and daughter, Junette, are wearing peasant blouses made in Clothing I, one of the course offerings at Campbell High School. It is part of the adult school diploma program.

Campbell Tele-care members meet their "voices" today

Campbell members of the new Tele-Care service will have a chance to meet the "voices" they hear each day at a Christmas party this afternoon at Bonnie View Park. The party is being hosted by the Good Samaritan Hospital Auxiliary.

Tele-Care, begun one year ago, provides elderly residents and convalescing patients in their own homes with a daily phone call from volunteers to see how they are.

There is no charge for the service. If the caller gets no response after a reasonable time a second call is made to a neighbor, friend or relative so that a personal visit can be made to make sure the member is all right.

The only contact members have with their volunteer is by phone so part of the afternoon's festivities will include seeing if members can identify their volunteer by their voice.

For more information about the service contact the nearest participating hospital. They include: O'Connor Hospital 298-3900, Good Samaritan Hospital 371-0500, and Santa Clara Valley Medical Center 293-0262.

Concert choir Madrigals appear here Dec. 11

West Valley College's ninth annual winter choral concert will be presented December 11 at 8 p.m. in the Campbell campus auditorium.

The concert will feature the college's Concert Choir, under the direction of Miss Kathryn Huss, and the Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Kenneth Jewell.

The Concert Choir will perform selections from the rock musical "Godspell," "Rock the Baby Jesus," "The Bells of Christmas," "Alleluia" from "For Us a Child is Born," and "Sing, Beloved Christians, Sing!"

The Madrigal Singers will present "Carol of the Birds," "The Bells Ring Out for Christmas," "Exultate Deo," "All Blessed, All Holy," and "Hymn to the Virgin."

The public is cordially invited to attend the admission-free concert. The Campbell campus auditorium is located on the corner of Campbell Ave. and Winchester Blvd.

Six youngsters to appear with "Nutcracker" ballet

Six young people from Campbell will perform in the West Valley Ballet Company's seventh annual Nutcracker at the San Jose Civic Auditorium December 16 and 17. They are Marian Marr who will be a cookie, Laurette Sotta and Robin and Karen Lemmerman, mice; and Charles Safford and Michael Howerton, who will appear in the first act party scene.

The Campbell youngsters join a cast of 150 in the Tchaikovsky Christmas classic which features the new San Jose Symphony Ballet Orchestra under George Cleve in its first area appearance. This year's production will also present all new sets by Stephen C. Wathen.

The West Valley Ballet Nutcracker was adapted from the original first seen in St. Petersburg, Russia in 1892 and is one of the rare productions in the United States to be totally uncut. The directors, Paul Curtis and Shawn Stuart, choreographed the yuletide favorite to include the entire first act party scene as well as all of the pure ballet variations in act II. Dancers range from fully professionals like Leila Parello and Antonio Mendes to cookies and mice only nine years old. They are chosen on the basis of open auditions early in the fall.

For ticket information call the San Jose Box Office at 246-1160 or visit any Macy's ticket agency. Reserved seats are $4, $3.50, $2.50 and $2 and group rates are available.

SNOW QUEEN---While "real" snow swirls all about, the Snow Queen will dance onto the stage of the San Jose Civic Auditorium to guide the Nutcracker Prince and little Clara toward the Palace of Sweets. Laurie Ritter, above, is one of 150 dancers to appear in this year's Nutcracker Ballet, December 16 and 17 at 2 p.m.

Tenth year party set

The tenth anniversary of the Los Gatos-Saratoga Community Hospital will be celebrated on December 17, according to Ralph Ross, executive director and founder of the hospital.

Festivities will include an "open house" at the Pollard Road facility from 1:30 to 4 p.m. followed by a dinner honoring fourteen employees who have been with the hospital since it opened.

Opening in 1962 as a 154-bed hospital with a staff of 288 employees and 100 affiliated doctors, it now has 200 beds, 461 employees and 411 affiliated doctors representing some 23 different medical and surgical specialties.

Church has a Christmas wish

Around the holidays, religious symbols somehow become more meaningful.

The Congregational Church of Campbell, 400 W. Campbell Ave., looks upon the cross that once adorned their altar as that special symbol that binds together their membership -- just as any other church does.

Trouble is, their cross is no longer on the altar.

Seems as though it was moved to the side of the sanctuary just before Thanksgiving to allow room for the gifts of food which have traditionally been offered at that time.

A few days later, it was missed when a wedding service was performed, but was thought that it was only misplaced.

Several weeks have passed, during which church personnel and other interested church members have searched diligently in every nook and cranny of the building--to no avail.

The 24" solid brass religious emblem is surrounded with a religious insignia and stands on a pedestal base.

While its replacement cost is not prohibitive, the cross is symbolic of many church services, weddings and christenings to many members of the community.

According to Rev. A. Wayne Myers, minister of the church, the "reappearance" of the cross would not be questioned.

They would like to see it back on the altar for Christmas.

Summer travel program told

John Hall has been appointed counselor for the Foreign Study League's 1973 summer program for high school students in Campbell.

Hall, an English and drama teacher at Campbell High School, has been in the field of education for 23 years and is an experienced traveler with the Foreign Study League's overseas program.

He will direct the enrollment of students from Campbell High School who wish to travel overseas during July and August of 1973.

The counselor and his group of students will fly from Oakland on July 2 with their first stop in Madrid. They will spend five weeks in travel and study in Rome, Florence, Salzburg, Lucerne, Paris and London.

Of special interest, Hall indicated, will be visits to Vatican City, Hadrian's Villa, the Louvre Museum, and Shakespeare country.

JOHN HALL

The group of Campbell students is scheduled to return August 9 after a flight from London.

The Foreign Study League is the oldest and largest travel-study organization in the world and is a subsidiary of Transamerica Corp.

Interested students should contact John Hall, Box 36, Campbell, CA 95008.

Science fair entries out

Plans are under way for the thirteenth annual Santa Clara Valley Science Fair for students in grades six through 12.

Winners will be chosen from student exhibits shown during the week of March 27 to 31.

District science teachers have been supplied with instructions and entry blanks for the fair and information can be obtained through your school.

Infant care unit installed

The Santa Clara County chapter of the National Foundation-March of Dimes has presented the new infant intensive care unit at Santa Clara Valley Medical Center with a $2,000 new special isolette for the transportation and care of sick and premature babies.

The new unit, which continuously monitors the heart rate and other information about a child within it in addition to providing incubator-type care, was made possible by gifts from the March of Dimes, the fund raising arm of the National Foundation.

It is to be used in the intensive care unit recently opened at Valley Medical Center for sick and premature children. The new unit, which services the Greater San Jose area, provides around the clock nursing and physician care for very young babies.

Mowatt gives book talk

"Slaughterhouse Five," by Vonnegut, will be the topic during the monthly book talk held at West Valley College.

West Valley instructor Bill Mowatt will discuss this book, which humorously deals with war, destruction and death, today at 12:15 p.m. in the Ranganathan room of the Saratoga campus library.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

REBEKAH'S MEET

The Past Noble Grands' Club of ADA Rebekah Lodge 223 will meet at 8 p.m., December 14 at the home of Mrs. Leola Zacker, 255 Prince Street, Los Gatos. Mrs. Ruth Zimmer is co-hostess of the event.

PRUNEYARD COOKING SHOW---Louise Montague Athearn, author of The Entertaining Woman's Cookbook, will share ideas for holiday home entertaining at the PruneYard's Holiday Cooking Show, to be held on December 19, 1972, at 11 a.m., at the PruneYard United Artists' Theater.

Tickets for the show are available at PruneYard stores. All net proceeds will go to local service organizations.

Nativity story told at First Methodist

The nativity story will be portrayed in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell on Sunday evening, December 17, at 5 p.m. All children and youth of the Sunday School will participate.

Three children's choirs, the Choraliers, directed by Mrs. John Turner, the Cherubs, directed by Mrs. Gary Uchytil and the Wesley Singers, directed by Bob Campbell will offer Christmas music.

Campbell will direct the congregational singing of Christmas carols. Vocal solo "O Holy Night" will be performed by Mrs. John Turner; organist will be Mrs. John Grodeon.

The holy family will be portrayed by Mr. and Mrs. David Sargent and infant. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kropff will be in charge of lighting and special scenic effects and Mrs. Hilda James Snyder will direct the pageant.

Refreshments will be served after the pageant and Sunday School rooms will be open. The public is invited.

ROTARY PARTY PLANNED HERE

Santa will be on hand to welcome some 50 youngsters at the Rotary Club Christmas party on Monday, December 18 at the First United Methodist Church of Campbell.

The youngsters, selected by the San Jose Salvation Army, will be greeted with gifts and goodies, according to Bruce Stevenson, Rotary president.

Holiday poems read at Valley

The Christmas spirit will come to West Valley College Thursday, December 14 when college instructor Gwen Large will give Christmas readings.

Mrs. Large will read a selection of Christmas poems and short pieces from Eliot, Yeats, Dylan Thomas and Ferlinghetti.

The readings will be given at 12:15 p.m. in the Ranganathan room of the learning resource center on the Saratoga campus.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Santa Clara, State of California in the Office of the Clerk, County Administration Building, Room 524, 70 West Hedding Street, San Jose, California, 95110, up to 2:00 o'clock p.m., December 21, 1972, for EQUIPMENT RENTAL FOR TRAFFIC SIGNAL AND HIGHWAY LIGHTING IMPROVEMENTS in the County of Santa Clara, State of California, in accordance with plans and specifications on file for the work in the Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

The bids will be opened by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors at the time and place above stated, and a report of the names of all bidders and the amount of each bid will be made by the Clerk to the Board of Supervisors at the next regular or special meeting of the Board following the date of opening of the bids.

"Workmen employed in the work must be paid at the rates at least equal to the prevailing wage rates last adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Santa Clara, which rates are filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, incorporated herein by reference, and copies of which are available to any interested parties on request."

The County of Santa Clara is an equal opportunity employer and all contractors of County projects are urged to follow a policy of affirmative action in regard to the requirements of Executive Order 11246, as well as the regulations of the Fair Employment Practice Commission of the State of California.

Each bid must be accompanied by cash, a certified or cashier's check or a bidder's bond in the sum of not less than 10% of the total aggregate of the bid, and the checks or bond shall be made payable to the order of the County of Santa Clara.

All bids must be addressed to the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Santa Clara, and shall bear the title or name of the work to be constructed.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to waive any errors or discrepancies.

The Contract shall be considered completed one (1) Calendar Year after the first working day charged or when the dollar amount of the original total contract as bid has been expended, whichever occurs first. Work already under way shall continue beyond this completion date until all projects are completed.

Liquidated damages shall be assessed for each calendar day the work remains incomplete beyond the time fixed above for completion in the amount specified in Section 8-2 (Liquidated Damages).

Plans and specifications may be secured from the Department of Public Works, 20 West Hedding Street, San Jose, California 95110, upon the payment of $5.00 per set as a deposit. If these documents are returned in good condition within ten (10) days after the date set for the opening of the bids, the full amount of the deposit will be returned. Credit will be given for specifications returned with the bid submitted to the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Santa Clara, State of California, on November 28, 1972.

CHRISTMAS SONG FEST

by Ellie Rumbaugh

A Christmas song fest for Blue Birds, Camp Fire, Discovery Club, and Horizon Club girls of district nine was held at Lietz School and was attended by over 350 girls. As the girls arrived each received a candy cane and before leaving they were treated to hot chocolate.

Groups providing skits were: Mrs. Sach Ando's Blue Birds in "I'm Getting Nuttin' For Christmas"; Mrs. Becky Barrett's Blue Birds, "Rudolf, The Rednose Reindeer"; Mrs. Kay Cook's fourth grade Camp Fire Girls, "Mele Kalikimaka", a Hawaiian Christmas Song, Mrs. Mary Navarro's Blue Birds; "Shoemaker Folk Dance"; Mrs. Sandy Guenther's Camp Fire Girls, "Nu Ar Det Jul Igen"; a Swedish Christmas Song; Mrs. Beverly Sadler's Blue Birds, "Have A Holly, Jolly Christmas"; Mrs. Mariam Murphy's Camp Fire Group, "Candy Man"; Mrs. Karen Charles' Blue Birds, "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town"; and Mrs. Shareen Duncan's Camp Fire Girls doing, "My Aunt Came Back."

Special added attraction was the reading of "The Night Before Christmas", by Mrs. Kay Cook and her family.

The next district-wide event will be the annual Craft Fair to be held on consecutive Saturdays. Saturday, December 9 at Fisher Junior High School in Los Gatos from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m., and Saturday, December 16 at Rolling Hills Junior High in Campbell from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. All items to be sold are handmade by the girls and will sell for less than $1.00.

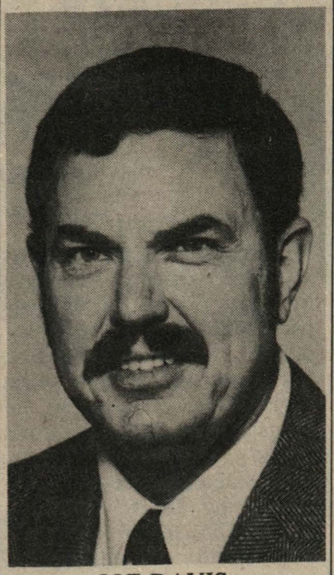
West Valley presents annual winter concert



JOE DAVIS

Music from the classical and jazz worlds will combine December 13 at 8:15 p.m. when West Valley College's two student groups, the Symphonic Band and Jazz Ensemble, present their annual winter concert.

Both groups will be under the direction of Joe Davis, West Valley music instructor, who has performed as a musician with such greats as Enrique Jorda, Johnny Green, David Rose and Henry Mancini.

The concert is free and the public is cordially invited to attend the concert, to be held in the Campbell campus auditorium, corner of Winchester Blvd. and Campbell Ave.

Obituaries

EMILY E. WILSON

A 10-year resident, Emily Elizabeth Wilson, died here last Wednesday. She was 78.

Services were held at the Darling-Fischer Campbell Memorial Chapel. Interment was in Los Gatos Memorial Park.

Mrs. Wilson, 2150 Violet Way, leaves four children, Mrs. Evelyn Hawkins of Campbell, Kae Nichols of Los Angeles and Mrs. Lila Carter and Mrs. Frank Mar, both of Iowa.

HENRY E. NAPIER

Funeral services were held last Thursday for Henry Evans Napier, 67, a retired accountant and 20-year area resident who succumbed December 3 in a Palo Alto hospital after a long illness.

A native of England, Napier, 946 Salerno Dr., moved to the United States with his parents as a child. After spending many years in Centralia, Washington, he moved here with his family in 1952. He was employed, before his retirement, with the Hughs Construction Company.

Napier leaves his wife, Sophia Napier, and a daughter, Rosemary, both Campbell residents.

Services were held at St. Luke's Church with burial in the Mission City Cemetery of Santa Clara. Chapel of the Hills handled the arrangements.

EARL EDWARD BARKER

Services were held on Friday at the Darling-Fischer Campbell Memorial Chapel by Morning Light Lodge 42, the Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould officiating, for Earl Edward Barker who passed away on December 5 after a long illness.

Barker, 59, was the husband of Pauline W. Barker and the father of Mrs. Merikay Wilder of Campbell and Mrs. Sherianne Peterson of Oregon. He is also survived by a sister, Lois Smith of Iowa and a granddaughter, Ami Elizabeth Peterson.

A 30 year resident of Campbell, he resided at 211 Carlyn Ave. A past noble grand of IOOF, Morning Light Lodge 42, San Jose Encampment, Barker was also a member of the International Association of Machinists. He was also a World War II veteran.

Interment was at Los Gatos Memorial Cemetery.

Staff requests negotiating committees

Negotiating procedures for the certificated and classified staffs will be under study when West Valley College's governing board meets December 21.

Thursday evening representatives of both groups presented letters to the board outlining proposals for establishment of two committees both of which would develop negotiating guidelines.

A common point of both the certificated and classified proposals is the inclusion of board members on initial negotiating guideline committees. In previous years the board has expressed dissatisfaction with such an idea.

Board members asked that the two proposals be placed on their next agenda along with the administration's recommendation.

In other action Thursday night the governing board:

Held over until its next meeting a proposed policy relative to the endorsement of legislative issues.

Reappointed Ed Kolstad, Emmette Gatewood, Morris Loughran, Robert L. King and Holland A. Vollenweider to the college's real estate advisory committee.

Approved two non-graded, non-credit classes for adults. They were: Literature for children and "Everything You Want to Know About Income Taxes But Are Too Afraid to Ask."

Injuries prompted new motor bike safety class

A new program of instruction on motorcycle and motor bike safety is being offered because of the curiosity of one county traffic referee, Dick Netro.

A member of the County Juvenile Probation Department, Netro looked up one day to see a young man approach carrying a traffic ticket...on crutches. "This was the sixth bike rider I had seen that morning," Netro said, "and the third one on crutches."

After questioning the boy he learned that the youth had never received instruction in the safe handling of his motorcycle. From that discussion a request went to Metropolitan Adult Education; could something be done to teach motor bike safety to youths coming before the traffic referees?

Presently limited to youngsters who have been ticketed for improper bike riding, the department hopes to eventually be able to offer the course to the general public.

The four session course offers rules in motor bike safety, including two sessions in which riders have to demonstrate the correct way to operate their vehicles.

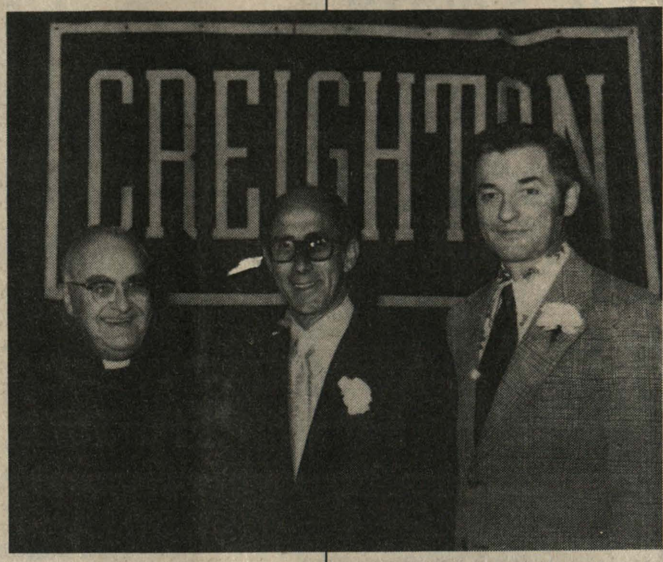
Sessions are being held at Lincoln High School in San Jose by former motorcycle officer William Bond.

Dr. Bacci honored

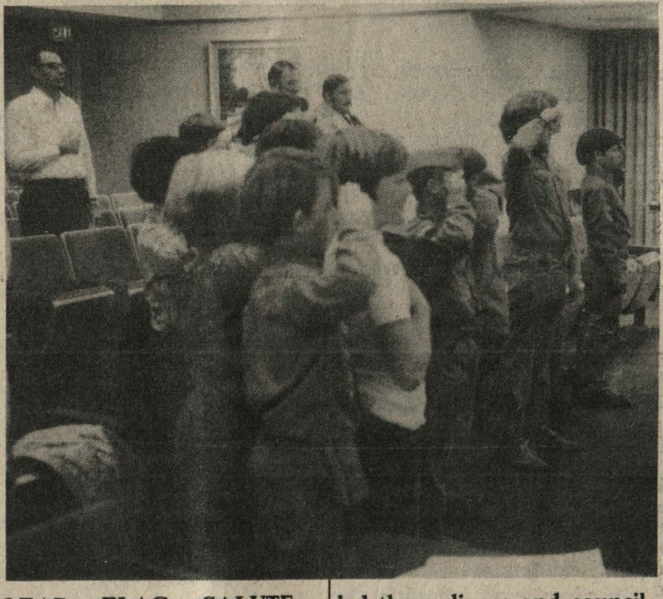
Campbell physician, Dr. Orval J. Bacci, was recently honored by Creighton University and the Creighton University Alumni Association.

During ceremonies held in Omaha, Nebraska, Dr. Bacci was presented a Silver Anniversary Citation recognizing him for 25 years of service to mankind and for his loyalty to Creighton University.

Dr. Bacci was one of 58 persons who graduated from the Creighton Medical School in 1947.



HONORED IN NEBRASKA--- Campbell physician Dr. Orval J. Bacci, above center, was honored by the Creighton University Alumni Association in ceremonies in Nebraska. Pictured above, left, is the Rev. Joseph H. Labaj, S.J., president of the university and Joseph M. Holthaus, M.D., dean of the Creighton School of Medicine.



LEAD FLAG SALUTE--- Members of Boy Scout Troop 377 of Hazelwood School, who were in attendance at the City Council meeting Monday, led the audience and councilmen in the pledge of allegiance to the flag at the opening of the meeting.

Hiking club seeks new participants

West Valley Hiking Club is now seeking participants for its fall and winter outings. The outings are open to all young people of junior high and high school age. The Club does not have a membership requirement. Most youths on each outing are new to the group. All trips are very low cost. The fall schedule is as follows:

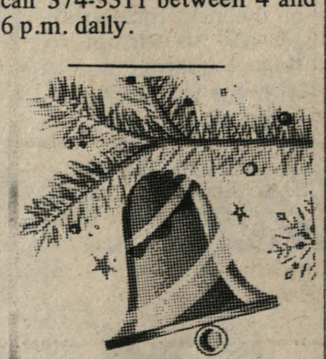
Christmas Vacation Trips, Dec. 26–Jan. 2; Grand Canyon backpacking; Backpacking and mountain climbing trip to Baja California; Bicycling in Death Valley and the Desert.

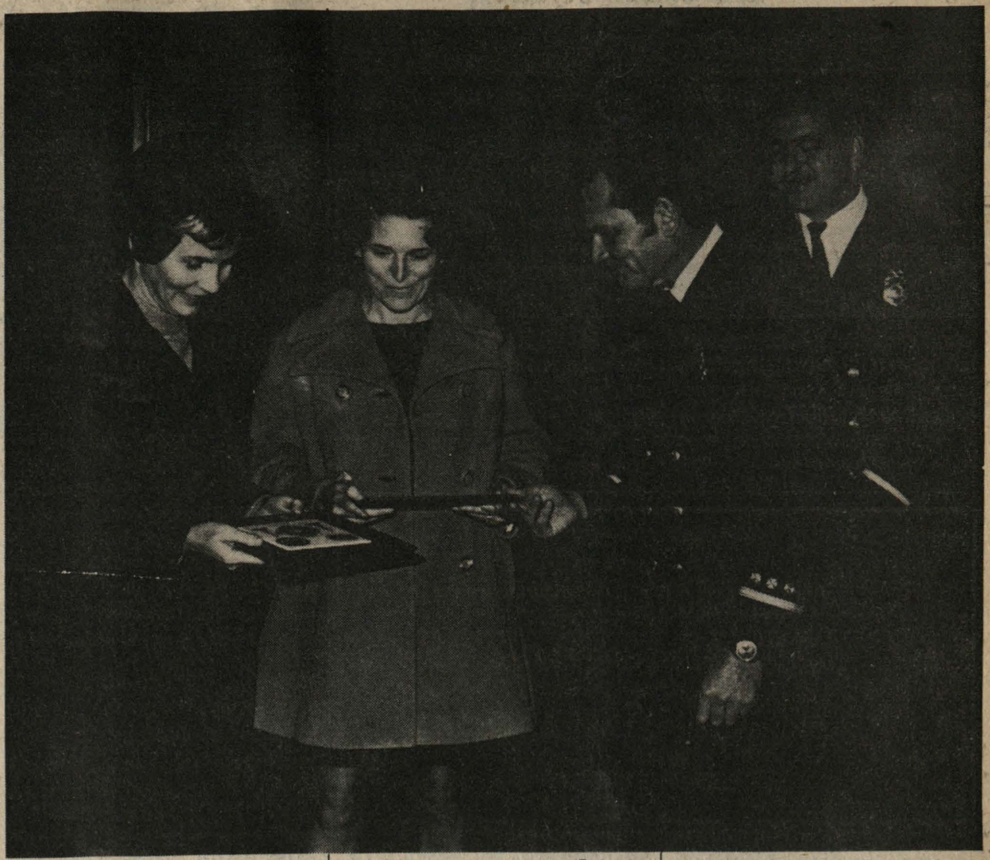
The club will also offer cross country skiing and winter survival trips during Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays in addition to three day skiing trips at Dodge Ridge and Lake Tahoe.

Transportation is provided by Hiking Club buses driven by the Hiking Club guides.

The club has a professional staff of guides who lead trips for the club. All trips are usually preceded by two meetings that are geared toward trip preparation. Trips range in cost from about $15 for 3 day trips to $65 for the extended trips to the Grand Canyon, Death Valley and Baja. The fee includes food, all group equipment such as tents and stoves and transportation. The club also has packs, boots, snowshoes and other personal equipment. other personal equipment available to use free of charge. Trips range in difficulty from easy beginner trips to trips requiring an advanced skill knowledge.

To receive an outing schedule and to find out more about the trips, young people should write the Club at 409 E. Hamilton, Campbell 95008 or call 374-3311 between 4 and 6 p.m. daily.





SPECIAL INSTRUCTORS--- When the regularly scheduled food preparation instructors were unable to attend the famed "Baby-sitters Seminar" of the Campbell Fire Department, two mothers of girls in the class volunteered to take over that phase. At the graduation ceremonies, the two mothers, Mrs. Louise Furtaw (left) and Mrs. Donna Hess, were given special awards for their services. Making the presentation is Fire Chief Gene Borden and Jack Christian, seminar director, on the right. A class of 39 students were graduated in the ceremonies.

Merit award semi-finalists announced

Sixteen students from district high schools were named as semi-finalists in the national merit scholarship competition.

They are: David Whittiker, Campbell High; Debra Gehman, Sandra Martin, Phillip Robinson, Martin Freitas, Westmont; John Perry, Camden; Laurie Edwards, Robert Schoenberger, John Verbrugge, Jim Washburn, Dorothy Franklin, Blackford; Chris Steitz, Dennis Stout, Leigh; Marcy Epstein, Timothy Harris, Branham; Christopher Raymond, Prospect.

Some 15,000 semi-finalists have been selected throughout the United States. Of these, 3,000 graduating students will be awarded top scholarships to schools of their choice.

According to district officials, some 500 top private firms add to the national merit scholarship award of $1,000 so a scholarship can actually be worth up to $20,000.

In addition to the semi-finalists letters of commendation were sent to an additional sixteen district students. They are: Dara Hamann, Ben Riddle, Camden; Rita Beck, Thomas Commarito, Adrian Dale, Jeff Edmond, Edward Fischer, Cynthia Franz, Laura Gardner, Caroline Peyton, Ronald Rao, Richard Russo, Del Mar; Diane Ades, Mike Bruce, Blackford; and Charlene Vernon and Elizabeth Buckland from Westmont.

PROUD FATHER --- Mayor Bill Podgorsek, who presented diplomas at the graduation ceremonies of the recent "Baby-sitters Seminar" of the Campbell Fire Department, took especial pleasure in presenting diplomas to two of the 39 graduates. His son, Ken, (above) and daughter, Kathy, were members of the class.

Westmont Open Mouth

PAUL & MS. MAUREEN

(Macierz) (Hillyard)

Ms.: You're back! Welcome!

Paul: Yeah, and Redwood Glen was fantastic. I've never enjoyed myself so much.

Ms.: We all missed you, and Sybil came back to help out.

Paul: Well, let me tell you all about it.....

Ms.: Do you know what we've been doing in government?

THE FIRST SESSION OF NAPOLI CONGRESS

The senior government classes at Westmont are currently playing games and learning about national politics at the same time.

NAPOLI stands for national politics and the name of the simulation, in which the students portray legislators, house speakers and party leaders, whips and congressional roles.

All parties are represented, Democrats, Republicans, American Independents and the Peace and Freedom Party. Students vote on issues such as withdrawal from the U.N., nuclear satellites and population control, according to their party and districts.

Paul: Yeah, that's interesting but you've got to hear about these nine little kids I was in charge of...

Ms.: Have you heard about the concert?

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The 1972 Christmas Concert this year once again brings to you Westmont's own orchestra and choir.

Under the direction of Gary McBee, the choir will be singing the "Song of Christmas," "Hallelujah Chorus," and other Christmas carols.

The concert orchestra will play "Magic Flute" and a selection from the "Nutcracker Suite."

The concert will be presented next Tuesday evening in the cafeteria. Admission is free, at 8 p.m.

Paul: Listen, I've got to tell you about.....

Ms.: About the Christmas Ball.

MISTLETOE AND CANDLELIGHT

Well, it's that time of year again, so buy your bids and let's go to the Christmas Ball. The theme is "mistletoe and candlelight."

Playing for all you dancing darlings is that band of renown, Gropus Cackus. Prices are - yes, you have to pay - $3.00 per couple with A.S.B. card, $3.50 without. You can come to this great affair next Wednesday night at 8 p.m.

Paul: If you don't stop interrupting me, I'm going to climb up the walls.

UPCOMING EVENTS, NEWS, GOSSIP, ETC.

We, the senior class of Westmont High, are glad to know that other senior classes are in dire financial straits. We sympathize with you Campbell seniors. P. S. Got any ideas on raising money quick?

Student writers and artists- Myriad, Westmont's student magazine, is accepting work for publication in the 1973 edition. Pick up submitting forms from your English or art teachers or in Room 23.

Only one week of school left until Christmas vacation.

Uninteresting Fact: Mark Shannon does not have a little brother named Dirk. It's his dog.

Congratulations, Sally Howe, for making one of the eight CofC directors. Good work old editor.

Ms.: I don't know what you are getting so huffy about, I was only trying to tell you what happened while you were gone.

Paul: Can I talk now?

REPORTS FROM THE WILD, REDWOOD GLEN

The week of November 27 to December 1, six Westmont seniors left school to be camp counselors at a one-of-a-kind school, Redwood Glen - the Monte Toyan campus.

This year-round outdoor school is tucked away into the Santa Cruz mountains. Redwood Glen teaches sixth graders to respect nature, other people, and (hopefully) their cabin teachers, through nature-field study, hiking, conservation classes, and night hikes.

Sherrie Baker, Daria Trozzolillo, Cheri Kehr, Ron Helder, Marsh Otter and Paul Macierz were cabin teachers.

I was fortunate enough to participate in the outdoor education program and I hope to do it again in the very near future.

I was in charge of nine adult midgets masquerading as sixth graders. Living with sixth graders 24 hours a day is supposed to build character! Well, I got enough character to last me until I'm 80. When my cabin kids found out about this column they turned from gorillas into publicity freaks.

So herewith is the roll call: Randy, Jeff, Shawn, Andy, Kevin, Don, Steve, Doug and John. For five days I lived with broken mirrors, hiking boots, hanging from the rafters, talking through the heater vents, daily fights with other cabins, no showers, and a pounding head.

Ms.: That sounds like it was really fantastic, I wish I would've gone.

Paul: You know what else is really fantastic?

EGO CORNER

This week we pass the Ego Corner baton to Westmont's own Cross-country team. Coached by "Bull" Hotchkiss our intrepid thinclads have been named tenth in the nation.

The star runners of the cross-country team are: Rich "Mac" McDandless, Jeff Werner, Pete Dinno, Rufus Garcia and Pepper Mace. These "MEN" along with all the other hard-running team members deserve more than this but this is all we got.

Ms.: I'm glad you're back.

Paul: Anything to get rid of Sybil!

Basketball tourney set

The third annual Camden invitational basketball tournament is scheduled as follows:

Starting times: Wednesday, December 13, two games, 7 and 8:30 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, December 14 and 15, four games at 4, 5:30, 7 and 8:30 p.m.

Camden's first game will be Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

Teams entered in the tournament are: Camden, Branham, Westmont, Pioneer, Andrew Hill, Gunn, Monta Vista and Piedmont Hills.

Planetarium offering each Friday night

West Valley College's planetarium is currently offering a showing of "The Bethlehem Star."

Each Friday night through December 29 the audience will view the night sky as the Wise Men did nearly 2,000 years ago.

The hour-long show is offered at 7:30 and again at 8:30 p.m. Rick Mielbrecht devotes the first portion of his show to a discussion and illustration of what is currently overhead in the sky of San Jose.

Admission is 50 cents per person. Reservations must be made in advance in the college's Community Services office, 379-1733, ext. 58.

The planetarium is located on the Saratoga campus, 14000 Fruitvale Ave.

Reunion held in Germany

A reunion, for the Thomas R. Young family, will take place in Germany later this month.

Mrs. Young left Friday to join her husband, a captain with the U.S. forces stationed in Berlin. With her was a daughter, Margaret, and three-month-old Matthew, who was born a month after his father left for Germany.

The family has been staying with Mrs. Young's mother, Mildred Myers, at 290 W. Latimer.

SNOW!...SNOW!...IT'S ALL AROUND--But none in the city of Campbell. Some area youngsters took advantage of the freezing temperatures, however. The Karle boys, Randy Karle is pictured above, hosed down their driveway and sidewalk at 948 Steinway Avenue during the evening Saturday. Sunday morning they and their friends used the artificial ice ponds for sledding.

BASKETBALL

A pair of victories were sandwiched around a tainted loss last week for the West Valley College Viking basketballers, running their enviable season log to 5-1 as they ready to hit the tournament road for the holidays.

The Vikings whipped Cabrillo, fell to Sacramento and topped San Mateo last week, rebounding from a big championship in the annual Fiesta Classic.

West Valley will take their impressive ledger back to Cabrillo this week but this time as a participant in the Cabrillo Classic. The Vikes will open play in the event Thursday at 3 p.m. against a strong Monterey five.

After losing a tight 65-62 decision to Sacramento City College, the Vikings came back strong against San Mateo last Saturday and really romped to a 101-80 victory.

Tim Walsh (Mitty) chalked his best showing of the year by far with his 27 points and 11 rebounds to lead the team in each category.

But he was supported by five other Vikings who scored in double figures.

Paul Arace (Del Mar) was singled out for his work coming off the bench. Arace hit on three of five shot tries.

A two-pointer that never swished the net cost the Vikings their decision against Sacramento. A referee ruled a shot good early in the game when a Panther was fouled on his drive. But the ball never passed through the rim.

The Sac City player hit the free throw and made good the three point play.

Hile led Viking scorers in the loss with 17 and Desin added 13. Boskovich hit 10 in the game and Walsh had eight.

WRESTLING

Down 12-2 before they could even register a win, the West Valley College wrestlers came back strong against the DeAnza Dons in their Camino Norte Conference opener last week - but not strong enough.

The Vikings dropped a 21-14 decision to DAC after pulling up from that 12-2 deficit to 12-11 with just three matches to go. But the Dons won two of the last three to clinch it. The same afternoon the Vikings notched a hearty 37-7 win over Skyline, rated as one of the better teams in the CNC.

Pins by Mitch Vierra (Westmont) and Doug Allen (Los Gatos) spearheaded the triumph.

Jamie Wheeler (Campbell) won 12-0 at 126, Mike Walker (Campbell) won 10-7 at 150 and Kevin Locke (Buchser) won 9-6 at 158 before Gary Russell (Leigh) lost 10-4 at 167. Mark Sevigny (Del Mar) lost 21-4 at 177 and Roger McCampbell (Peterson) took a 15-9 victory at 190.

But things didn't go as well against DeAnza. Soliz, Wheeler and Mendez lost in the first three matches and the best Vierra could do was a tie.

In tournament action last Saturday, the Viking matmen grabbed a fifth place behind Chabot, Diablo Valley, San Jose and Sacramento at the Sierra Invitational.

At the tourney, a double elimination Olympic - type event, Wheeler was the top WVC placer with a second place at 118 pounds. Mendez nailed a 134 pound fifth and Locke was fifth at 158.

CHRIS CARBONE--47 Leigh Ave., who is community affairs co-ordinator at Notre Dame High School in San Jose, demonstrates the technique to be used on shoppers by teenagers participating in the March of Dimes' teen-age program. Students from most participating schools will be out this Saturday, December 16, but the Notre Dame girls will do their share in January. Traditionally, the Notre Dame group raises more money than any other high school in the county. It is used to support the research, education and service programs of The National Foundation, national voluntary health agency working in the field of birth defects.

TO RETIRE

The board of directors of the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District has announced the retirement of District General Manager Donald K. Currlin.

he intends to leave the position in May, 1973. He said he chose the May date "to provide time for submission of the next fiscal year's budget and to attempt completion of contract negotiations with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

YWCA offers program list

The San Jose YWCA, which has active programs throughout the Santa Clara Valley, is ready with winter brochures listing classes, clubs, study groups, worry clinics, and youth activities.

Requests should be made to the Metropolitan YW, 210 S. Second St., San Jose, 292-1075, or Cambrian Center, 4343 Leigh Ave., San Jose, 269-7534.

The San Jose YWCA is a United Fund Agency open to all women and girls; men and boys may participate in some activities as associates.

STUDY COMMITTEE

This coming April, Camden will be invaded for three days by a group of educational experts who will evaluate our school. This accreditation committee will evaluate all aspects of the school, from the curriculum to the janitor's work.

The committee will be headed by Doctor Dorothy Westby-Gibson of San Francisco State University. A teacher, principal and a member from the State Department of Education will join the doctor in the committee.

The main purpose for this program is to have an outside group of people with educational background decide whether Camden should or should not be accredited (that is, to say if Camden is or is not a proper educational institution and what they claim to be doing, is true).

The Western Association of Schools and Colleges will send this committee and will later decide the number of years before another committee will return (the maximum is five years, while one to four years is considered poor).

VOCATIONAL TESTING

Students who have wondered about their suitability for various occupations will be able to find out by taking the Vocational Aptitude Battery Test to be administered on December 14 at 2 p.m. at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station in San Jose.

For those who have been thinking of joining one of the armed services or finding out if they have the skills and abilities for different vocations, these tests will determine your aptitudes.

These tests are open to both girls and boys and are given free with no obligations as a public service by the Armed Services.

There are six fields, which include electronics, general mechanics, motor mechanics, clerical work and general technical work.

MURAKAMI BROTHERS

Randy Murakami, senior, and his younger brother Glenn, sophomore, have followed family tradition in that they have pursued the art of judo.

Randy is now a high degree brown belt, the seventh of eight steps toward a black belt. To obtain a belt one must compete in vigorous competition to progress a single step. This accomplishment has taken a total of five years of hard practice.

He has participated in the junior Olympics held in Texas, as a 16-year-old, after being rated third in Central California.

He has taken part in tournaments, where he has been honored with several medals and trophies. His future plans are to compete on the SJSU judo team. They have one of the most highly rated judo teams in the nation.

SOCCER SEASON OPENS

Possibly the hardest sport at Camden has just played its season opener. What sport is that? Soccer, the game of pinpoint passing, driving shots on goal and hard-hitting defense.

If you think it sounds like football try playing a game of football without your hands! Possibly the hardest part of soccer is the eye-foot coordination. The average American boy is not used to kicking around a soccer ball and it is very difficult to acquire the knack.

The Cougar Varsity soccer team opened its 1972-73 season at Cupertino. The field was in very poor shape, as was the Cougar offense.

Cupertino picked up three of their goals in the first half and then hung on with a fine show of defense picking up one more score in the third quarter. Camden's defense was much better than the score implies.

The Cougar Junior Varsity soccer team also started its 1972-73 season against Cupertino. The JV team was handed a 3-0 defeat, yet looked very good offensively and on defense. Experience seems to be the only thing hurting the JV and with time they should be very impressive.

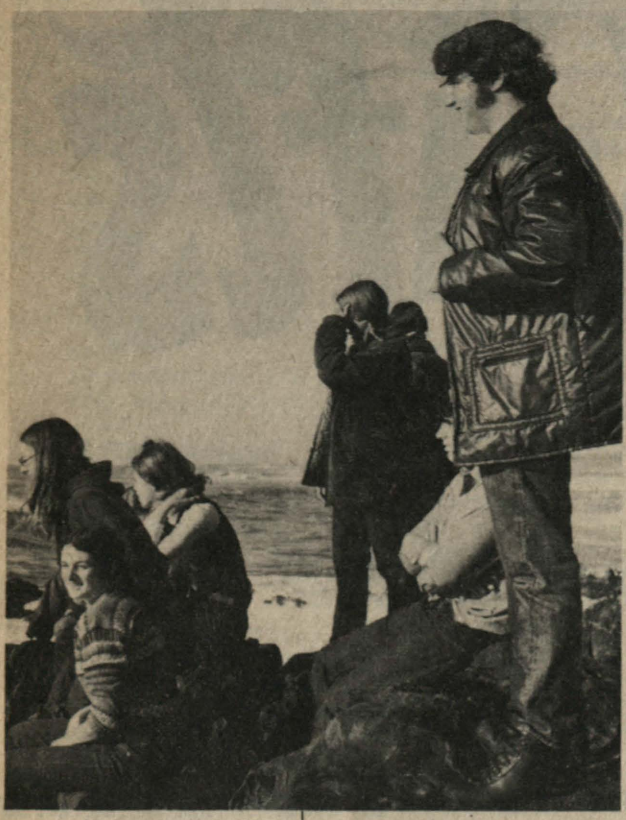
High schoolers get look at tide-pools



A SHORT BREAK---Campbell High students pause to enjoy the sunshine and watch storm waves while on a field trip recently.

JOAN EVANS --- Campbell High student searches tidepool for animals during Campbell High School's biology field trip.

Campbell High School students met some of our small coastal creatures first-hand on their recent trip to Pebble Beach, located 25 miles south of Santa Cruz.

Over 40 students spent Sunday afternoon exploring the tide-pools at the state beach. Sea anenomes, star fish, sponges, mussels, sea urchins and a few crabs and shrimp were among creatures located in the state-protected habitat.

Harvey Hailer and Steve Alleman, both biology teachers at the high school, accompanied the students.

According to Hailer, students were amazed at the number of sea creatures in the tide-pool. With new state laws prohibiting removal of any tide-pool creature from their natural habitat, field trips are the only way students are able to study the living creatures.

OVER 40 STUDENTS VISIT TIDEPOOLS---Some of the over three dozen students who recently took a field trip south of Santa Cruz.

New wrestling coach an "old pro"

by Dick Sparrer

For the last few years, northern California has proven to be one of the toughest high school wrestling areas on the west coast. And in northern California, the Central Coast Section is considered the best. And in the CCS area, the West Valley Athletic League ranks towards the top.

And in that tough league, in that tough section, in the top wrestling area in the west, Westmont High School was considered a true powerhouse and turned out some of the finest matmen the CCS had to offer. But the Warriors have lost their coach. And Westmont's loss is West Valley College's gain. Jim Root will take over the reins of the Viking grapplers for the 1972-73 season.

Root was the Westmont head wrestling coach for eight years. In that span he coached two WVAL championship teams and 19 individual champs. Two of his boys took state titles.

"I'm really excited about coaching at West Valley," said Root. "I'm looking forward to the season. It's common for a high school coach to think about what he'd do if he were in a college situation. And now I'm here. I really want to try some things and I'm looking forward to working with the kids here. It's a kind of goal for a coach to reach this level."

The head mat coach's job was made available last spring after an involved coaching shake-up on the Valley campus. Bob Jones, the only head football coach the Vikings had ever owned, accepted a job as offensive coordinator at Stanford.

Assistant football coach John Nicholas took over the head coach duties and Don Stillwell continued as an assistant. Filling the open spot on the staff was Bob Sutter, a long time football man and the only wrestling coach ever at WVC.

In order to devote more time to football, Sutter stepped down as the wrestling coach, leaving the spot vacant.

"All coaches want to advance," interjected Root. "There's always that new challenge to see what you can do."

Root, whose tournament at Westmont for the past eight years ranked as one of the best in the state, also coached football on the frosh-soph level at Westmont. He coached a year at Blackford before joining the Warriors.

As a wrestler for Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo), Root was a three year varsity letterman. At 130 pounds he ended first in the Pacific Association AAU tournament one year.

The coach was a three sport man in high school in Hayward, playing football along with wrestling and running track.

Root, 33, and his wife Geri are the parents of two, Terry and Shelly. Terry is starting to wrestle early and late in the summer won a tournament in Los Gatos, pinning an opponent 15 pounds heavier than himself.

Girl Scouts

by Erlene Cleveland
NEIGHBORHOOD 15

Christmas is a time of cheer, of doing for others, of serving others, of just having fun. The Girl Scout troops of Neighborhood 15 have been busy making goodies, collecting dolls and toys, planning parties for all to enjoy.

Troop 702, junior scouts, began the season by visiting the Christmas Lane held recently in San Jose, where they got many ideas for decorations for family and friends. Together with Troop 55, Cadettes, they plan to go Christmas caroling at Wedgewood Manor in Los Gatos. There will be 55 girls, under the direction of Mrs. Elwin Stocking leader of troop 702, and Mrs. Lloyd Engelbrecht, leader of troop 55.

Girls from troop 55 have been busy collecting food, games and new gift wrap to be donated to Christmas Community Store in Sunnyvale for distribution to needy families.

Troops 211 and 825, both junior troops, have made Christmas stockings and filled them with candy and will present them to Head Start children when they attend the Head Start party on December 16. The girls will also assist with furnishing and serving refreshments and with the evening's entertainment. Troop 825 has also been busy collecting canned goods for the Head Start program.

Girls from Forest Hill School junior troop, under the leadership of Mrs. Leonard Hair, have planned and made Christmas decorations for their own Christmas party. As part of the requirements for their Art-in-the-Round merit badge, one patrol has made a pinata.

Fathers and daughters of troop 827, Hazelwood School Brownies, recently journeyed to Skyline Blvd. to cut down Christmas trees. While there, they had a "rainy" picnic, before bringing the trees home to decorate.

Brownies from troops 826, 827 and 1036, Hazelwood School, have been busy collecting toys and dolls. In a brief ceremony held at their school, the girls presented the toys to the Marine Corps for their Toys for Tots program. The girls then journeyed to their meeting places to enjoy a Christmas party.

To wind up their holiday spirit, Brownies from troop 827 plan to attend the ballet performance of "The Nutcracker" in San Jose.

In an overall neighborhood event, Brownie, Junior and Cadette scouts will gather together at Westgate Mall on December 19, at 7:30 p.m. to sing Christmas Carols, under the leadership of Mrs. Richard McCullough, neighborhood chairman.

JOB SEEKER WILL NOT GET THE JOB

A young man recently filled out an application at a Campbell employment office. He definitely will not get the job.

According to George Pencer, owner of the employment office at 1507 Dell Ave., a young man entered his office Friday to fill out an application for employment.

The owner left for a few minutes while the man was busy with his task. When he returned the man was gone and so was Pencer's camera valued at over $300.
